

Fuel Manifolds

Stratoflex produces a wide range of fuel manifolds for many engine manufacturers. Most applications interface directly with fuel nozzles encompassing the engine diameter. These assemblies are custom engineered for specific customer applications and are available in fire-resistant and fireproof specifications. These manifolds are produced using many PTFE hoses listed in our main catalog. Contact the Division for more information.